E ternally be given!

C hildren, accept the offering,

H elp me Our Savior's praise to sing;

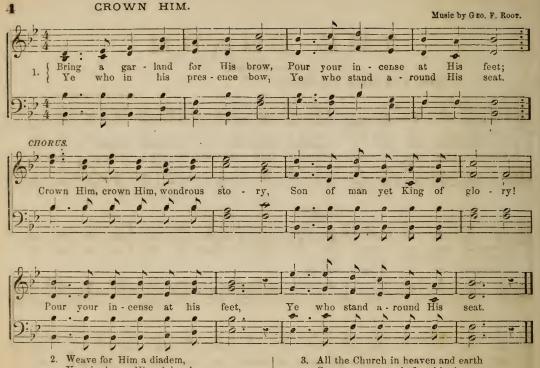

· A nd may these songs prepare His way-

Richly repaid am I if they

I ay win one soul to heaven.

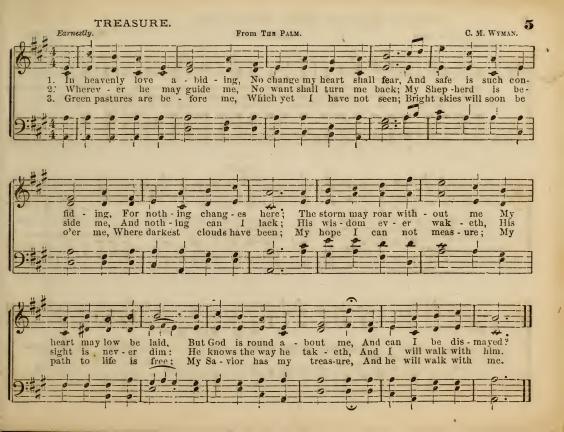

THE CHARM.

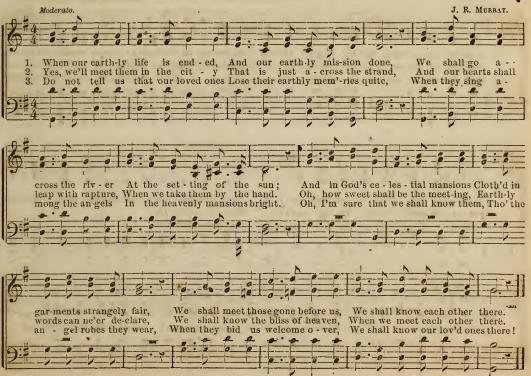

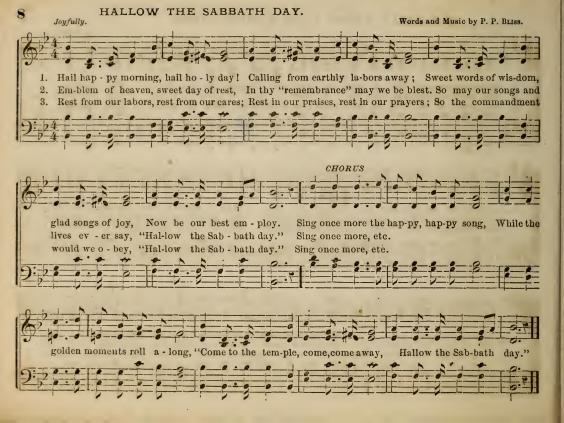

Ye who know His mighty love;
Gather every priceless gem
From the world below—above. Charus.

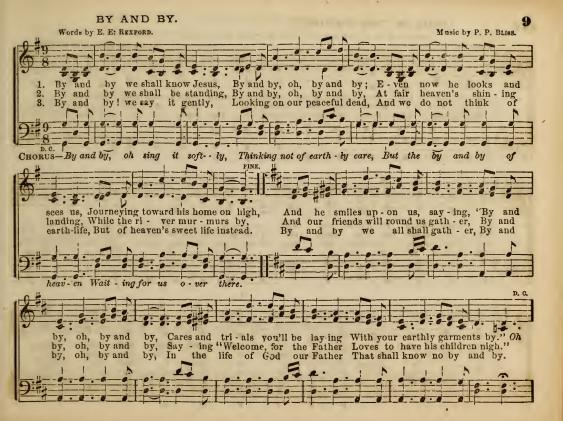

All the Church in heaven and earth
Cast your crowns before his throne,
Magnify His matchless worth,
He redeemed you—He alone. Chorus.

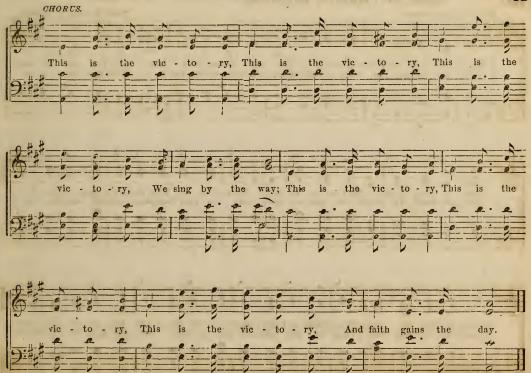

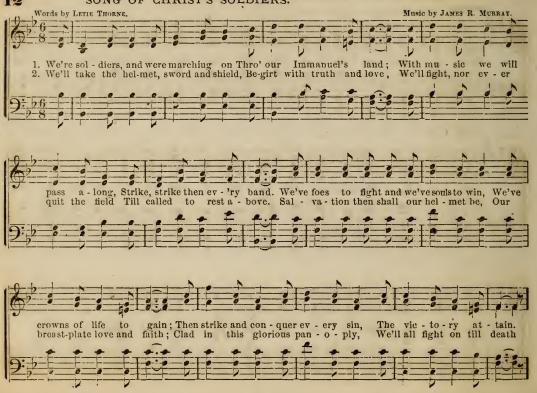

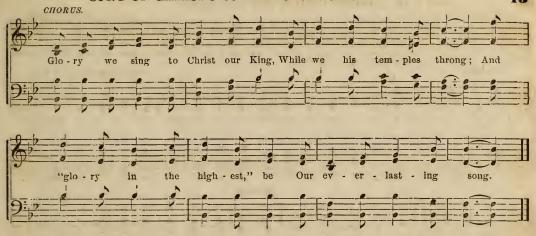

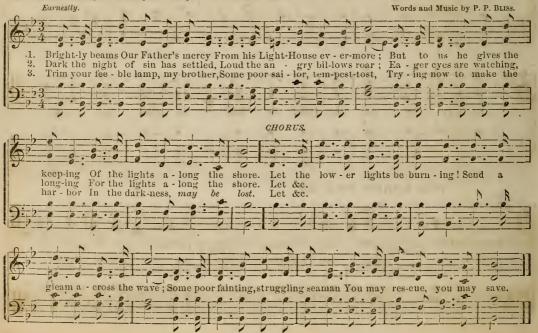

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

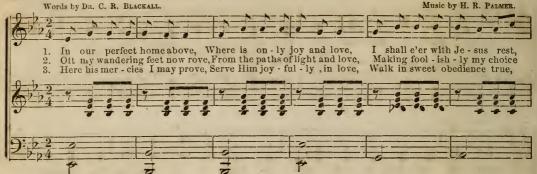

On a dark, stormy night, when the waves rolled like mountains, and not a star was to be seen, a boat, rocking and plunging, neared the Cleveland harbor. "Are you sure this is Cleveland?" asked the captain, seeing only one light from the light-house. "Quite sure, sir," replied the pilot. "Where are the lower lights?" "Gone out, sir," "can you make the harbor?" "We must, or perish, sir?" And with a strong hand and a brave heart, the old pilot turned the wheel. But alas, in the darkness he missed the channel, and with a crash upon the rocks the boat was shivered, and many a life lost in a watery grave. Brethren, the Master will take care of the great light-house: let us keep the lower lights burning l—D. L. Moody.

BE IN EARNEST.

Words and Music by P. P. Bliss.

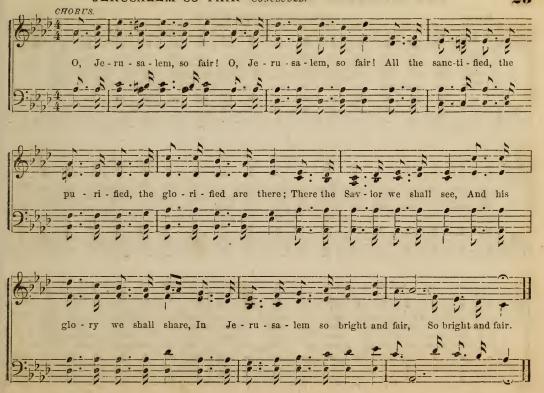

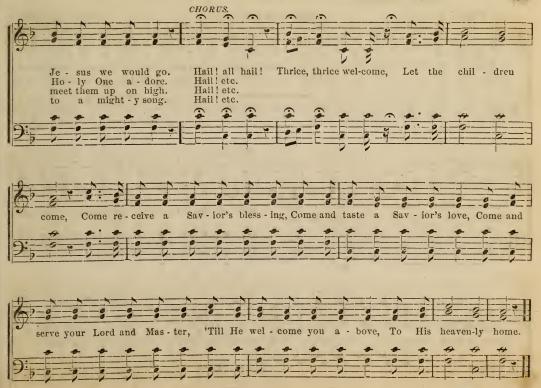

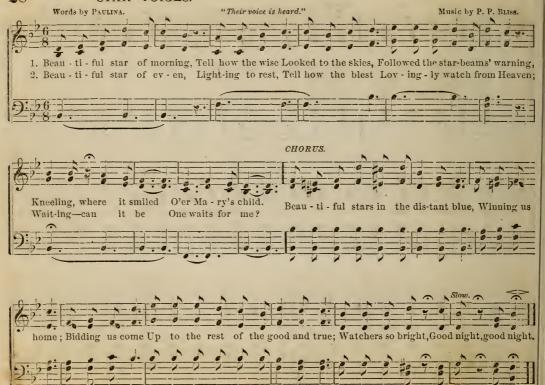

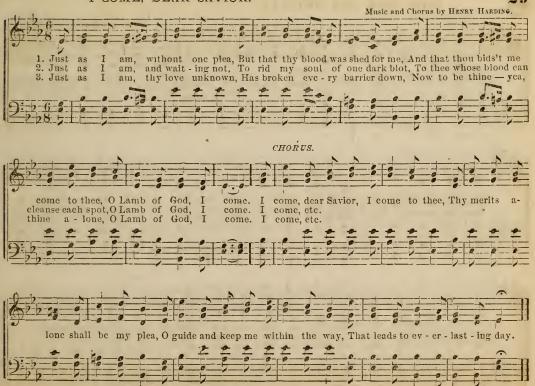

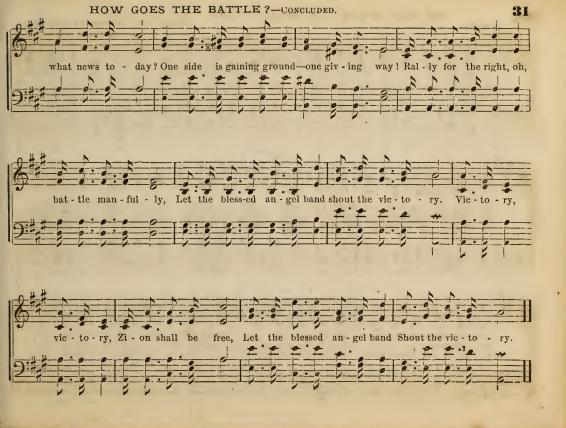

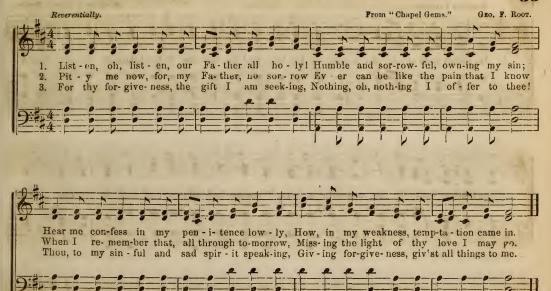

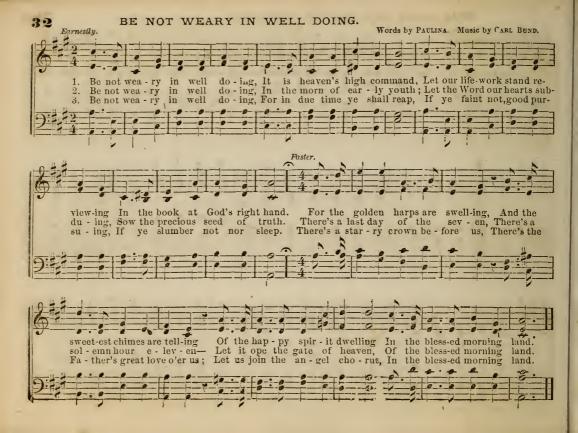

Keep me, my Father, oh, keep me from falling!
I had not sinned, had I felt Thou wert nigh;
Speak, when the voice of the tempter is calling,
So that temptation before Thee may fly.

Thoughts of my sin much more humble shall make me For thy forgiveness I'll love Thee the more: So keep me humble until Thou shalt take me Where sin and sorrow forever are o'er

- 2. He calls them to-day, to His dear earthly fold. And they hear him and joyfully gather-As they did to His arms for the blessing of old. To the house of the gracious All-Father: They toil in His service, for many or few,
- 1: There's always a work for the children to do.: I Whose hearts choose the better part rather.
- 3. And so let us come to the Savior each day, For His blessing at morn and at even-For He never has turned little children away, And whatever we need will be given. Oh! trust in the love that can never grow cold, : And follow His voice to the bright upper fold .: To feed 'mid the lilies of heaven.

NO TIME TO PRAY.

Words furnished by O. L. WOLCOTT.

Music by P. P. BLISS.

- No time to pray! What hear' so elean, so pure within, That needeth not some check from sin-Needs not to pray?
- No time to pray! Must care or business' urgent call So press us as to take it all Each passing day?
- What thought more drear Than that our God his face should hide, And say, through all life's swelling tide, No time to hear!

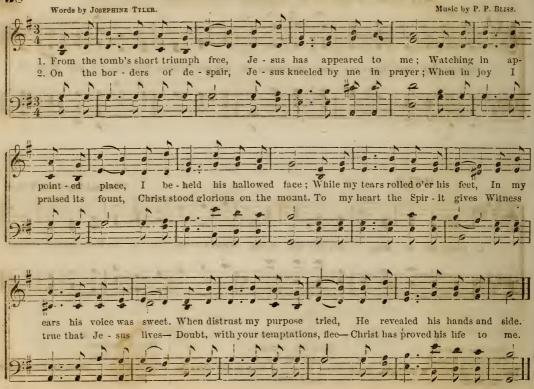

Help me to read, Thy grace I need, Lest I offend Thee in thought, word Keep Thou my feet in the heaven- Praise would I render to Thee everor deed.

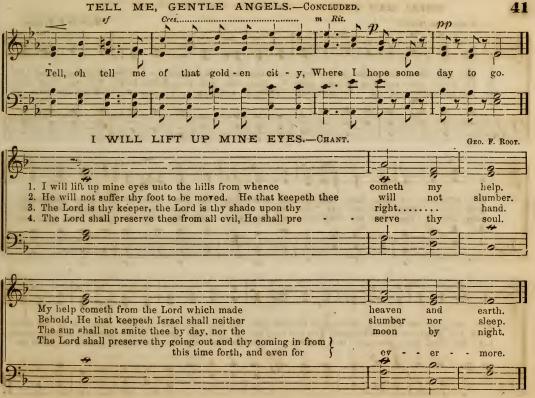

Help me to pray; Guard lest I stray; ward way.

Help I implore. Thee to adore; more.

"For whom is the bell tolling?" I asked a man at the church door. He replied, "only a little child."

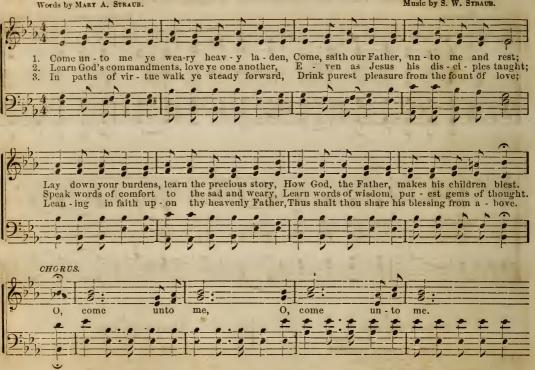

3.
"Only a little child,"
That our love possessed,
That our cares beguiled,
That is now at rest,
Now at rest.

"Only a little child,"
Such as Jesus blessed,
We were unreconciled,
Only He thought best,
He thought best.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS .- DUET AND CHORUS.

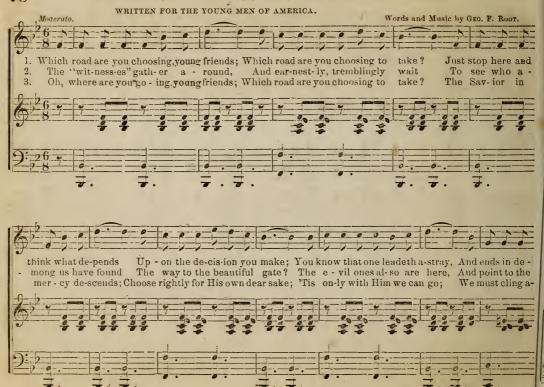

2. Our outward life requires them not, Then wherefore had they birth ?-To give delight to you and me, To beautify the earth:

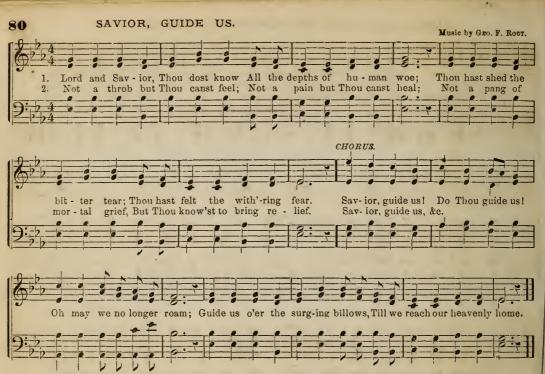

3. To comfort man, to whisper hope, Whene'er his faith is dim: For whose careth for the flowers. Will care much more for Him.

WHICH ROAD ARE YOU CHOOSING?

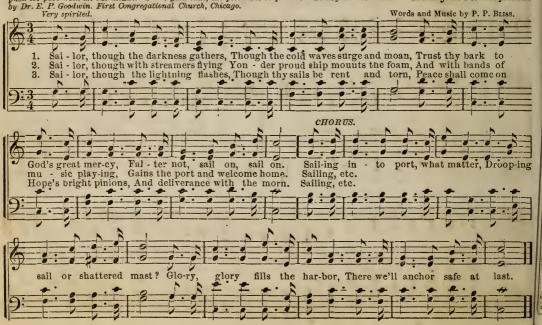

3. Do Thou shed a ray of love,
From Thy shining throne above,
In our hearts, where human might
Fails to kindle warmth or light. Chorus.

When the raging floods are nigh,
 To Thine open arms we'll fly;
 Sure the waters will not dare
 To o'erwhelm our spirits there. Chorus.

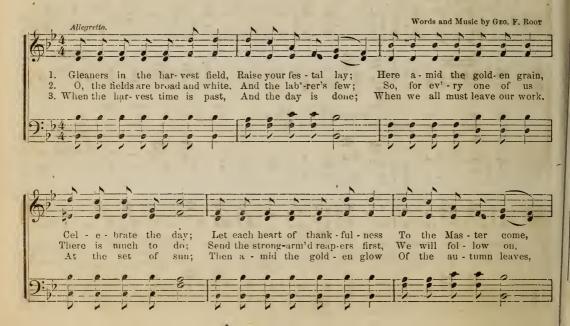

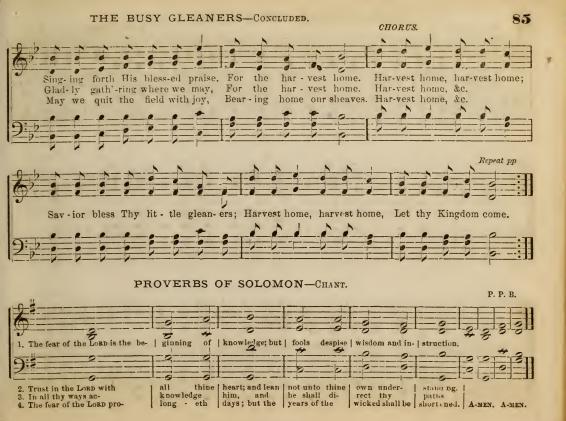

"Some Ships cross the ocean with clear skies, smooth seas and fair winds, and come into port with streamers flying and bands of music making jubilee. Others come in storms, with the sky black as night, the wind like a hurricane, and the sea like mountains—and they come in all battered, yards gone, masts splintered, hardly enough left to hang together. But the difference amounts to nothing. The only important thing from first to last is, not what the log says about storm or calm, but that they all steer close to the compass, and do their best to make the harbor. So they only get there safely, what happened to them by the way is of no account. So as to God's children. There may, there will be vast variety of experience: to some, prosperity, success, joy—to others, adversity, defeat, grief. But what may be your lot or mine, is of no consequence. The one only thing of moment is, that we stick close to our chart and push for port with all our might. So we gain that, the pleasures or perils of the way do not matter."—Extract from a sermon preached by Dr. E. P. Goodwin. First Congregational Church, Chicago.

In Hyde Park, one of the suburban towns of Chicago, is a company of ten girls who support a Bible reader (one who goes from house to house), and also support and educate a young girl, both in Harpoot, Turkey. This they do by their contributions, and by an annual festival, at which articles that they have made and collected are sold. They call this festival the "Harvest Home." They are called the "Busy Gleaners." Mrs. S. P. Farrington, their teacher and director, asked our Mr. Root to write a festival song for their coming "Harvest Home." The following, which is the result, will, we think, be regarded as one of this author's happiest efforts.—[EDITOR CHARM.]

WORK, FOR THE NIGHT IS COMING.

- Savior. I | come to | thee.
 A weary child, with pain and | care op- | prest;
 O, let me lean this aching, | burden'd | heart
 Up- on thy | loving | breast!
- 2. The way is | very | dark; | I cannot see it, Lord, through | these my | tears! | Take thou my hand and draw me | up to | thee Through | all the | lonely | years.
- 3. I have no | strength, dear | Lord; | O, let me lie where I can | kiss thy | feet, |

And look up from the dust in- | to thine | eyes
That | are so | true and | sweet!

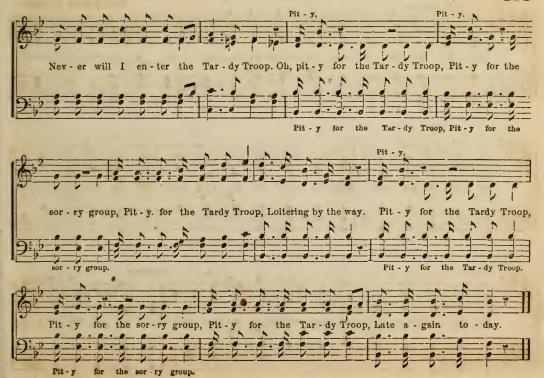

- Speak to me | soft and | low, | My spirit yearneth for one | little | word | To cheer the still, sad silence | of my | life; One | word from | thee, O | Lord!
- O, Savior, | speak to | me; | And, as the river falls in- | to the | sea, | And sinks to sleep, so this my | wearied | heart Shall | find its | rest in | thee.

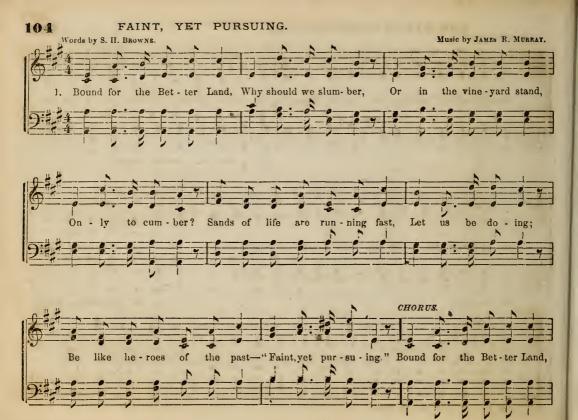

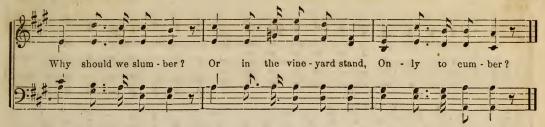

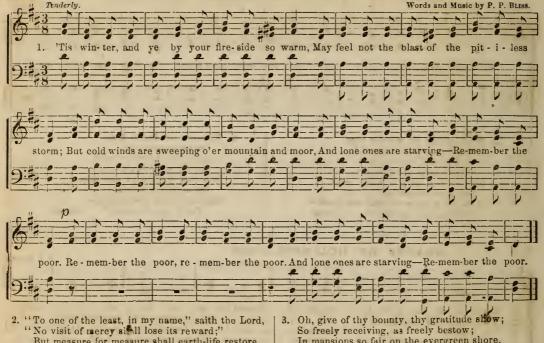

What though we wander here
 Midst doubt and dangers?
 Soon shall the shore appear,
 Where these are strangers;
 Where the pilgrim's broken staff
 Needs no renewing:
 Wine for wormwood shall we quaff—
 "Faint, yet pursuing.": Chorus.

3. Then for the Better Land
Let us be straining;
Stout heart and ready hand
Ground still are gaining.
We must wage a warfare brave,
Strong foes subduing;
Battling to the open grave—
"Faint, yet pursuing." Chorus.

"No visit of mercy si all lose its reward;"
But measure for measure shall earth-life restore,
And treasure in heaven—Remember the poor.
Remember the poor.
And treasure in heaven—Remember the poor.

3. Oh, give of thy bounty, thy gratitude show; So freely receiving, as freely bestow; In mansions so fair on the evergreen shore, Would you be remembered? Remember the poor, Remember the poor,

Would you be remembered? Remember the poor.

INFANT CLASS.

(Children tap lightly with their finger-nails on seats or desks during the singing of these two lines, to imitate the pattering of the rain.)

Teacher recites—"He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass; as showers that water the earth."—Paims, 72: 6.

2. Hear the softly whisp'ring breeze Singing sadly through the trees.

(Children rub their hands lightly together while singing these two lines.)

Teacher recites—"For lo, he that formeth the monutains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth. The Lorp, the God of hosts, is his name."—Amos, 4: 13.

3. Hear the noisy whistling gale, Sounding over hill and vale.

(During the singing of these two lines, all rub their hands briskly together, and a part of the class force their breath through their teeth, to imitate the whistling of the gale.)

Teacher recites—"How long wilt thou speak these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a strong wind?"

Job. 8: 2.

4. Hear the mighty thunder crash, See the vivid lightning flash.

(During the singing of the first line the pupils draw their feet back and forth on the floor, imitating thunder. At the same time let the hands make a zigzag motion through the air in addition to the noise with the feet.)

Teacher recites—"Thou art the God that doest woulders; thou hast declared thy strength among the people. The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven; the lightnings lightened the world; the earth trembled and shook."—Ps. 11, 14, 18.

"For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be."
Matt. 24: 27.

5. Thunder, lightning, wind and rain Make the fearful hurricane.

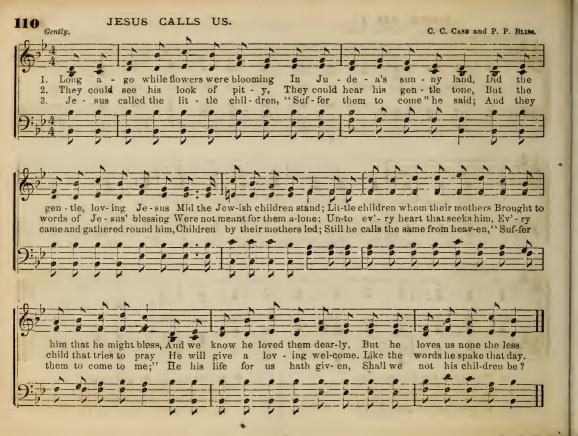

(After singing this the children make all the motions at once, and with increasing force until a signal from the teacher to cease.)

Teacher recites—"When he uttereath his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens; and he causeth the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; He maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures."—Jeremiah, 10: 13.

Only waiting-"Here am I!"

He will answer, "Here am I!"

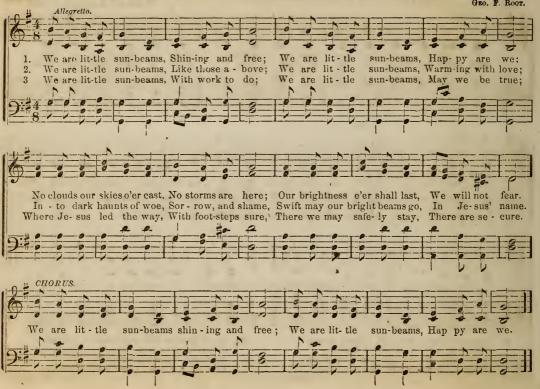

- Though I forget him and wander away, Kindly he follows wherever I stray, Back to his dear loving arms would I fiee, When I remember that Jesus loves me.

 Chorus.
- Oh, if there's only one song I can sing,
 When in his beauty I see the great King;
 This shall my song in eternity be,
 O, what a wonder that Jesus loves me.

 Chorus.

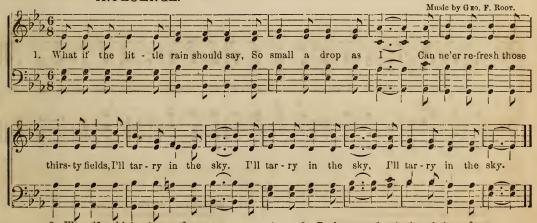

I'LL NOT FORGET TO PRAY .- CONCLUDED.

INFLUENCE.

2. What if a shiring beam of noon, Should in its fountain stay, Because its feeble light alone : Cannot create a day.:

Doth not each rain drop help to form
 The cool, refreshing shower,
 And every ray of light to warm
 | : And beautify the flower.: |

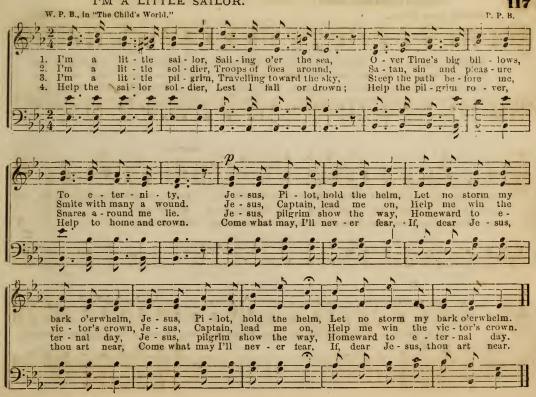

All that's good and fair he shows me; Tends me ev-ery day the same; E-ven calls me by my name.

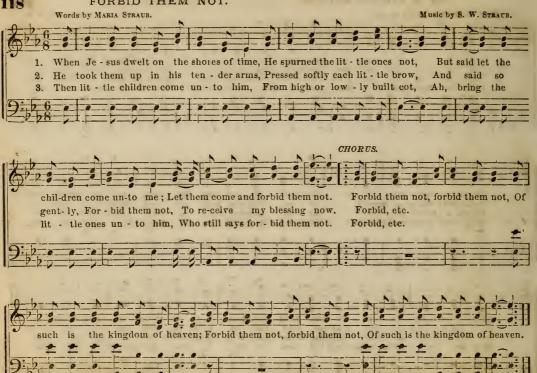

2

Out and in I safely go; Want or hunger never know; Soft, green pastures he discloseth, Where his happy flock reposeth; When I faint or thirsty be, To the brook he leadeth me. 3.

Should I not be glad and gay
In this blessed fold all day,
By this holy Shepherd tended,
Whose kind arms, when life is ended,
Bear me to the world of light?
Yes, oh! yes, my lot is bright."

Little blue-bird in the tree, In the tree, In the tree, Little blue-bird in the tree, Sing a song to me; Sing about the mountain, Sing about the sea, Sing about the steamboats-Is there one for me? Chorus.

Little black-bird in the tree, In the tree, In the tree, Little black-bird in the tree, Sing a song to me: Sing about the farmer Planting corn and beans, Sing about the harvest-I know what that means. Chorus.

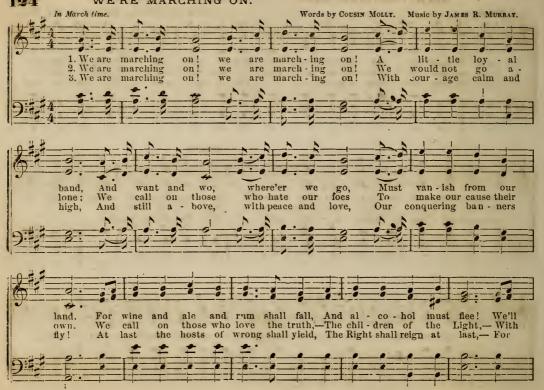

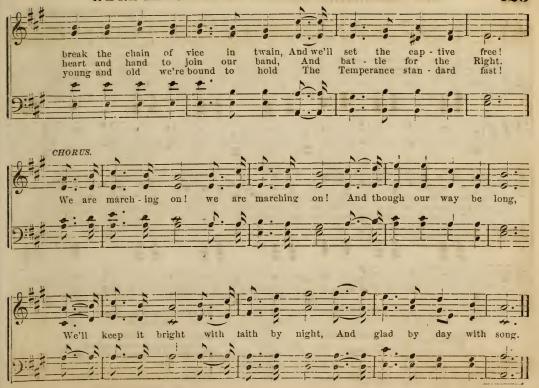

2. God is always near me, In the darkest night He can see me just the same As by mid day light.

3. God is always near me, Though so young and small: Not a look or word or thought. But God knows it all.

CONCERT AND OCCASIONAL.

THINK ON THESE THINGS .- CONCERT EXERCISE.

[Phillippians iv: 8.]

Six large cards, marked—"What-so-ev-er things are," being suspended at a convenient height, each singer, at the conclusion of his stanza, attaches a card bearing his word under one of the large syllables.

Then a small girl, as she sings, may hang a card marked Virtue on the one marked Honest; a small boy attach Praise to Lovely; the nanther, perhaps still smaller, girl and boy, put on the last long card, while they sing—Think on these things. When completed the cards will read:

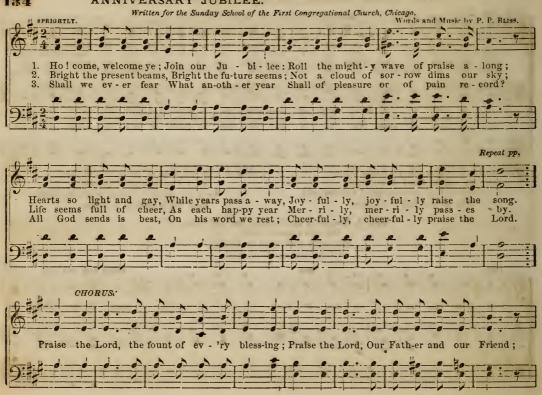

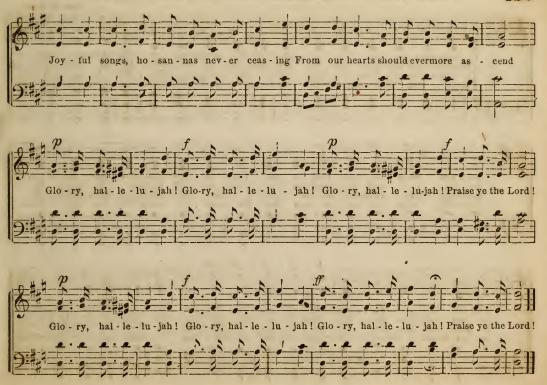

Girl. 4. I'm thinking what a happy time
Is coming some day, sure;
When things unclean shall be removed,
And all the world be pure.

Girl. 5. I'm thinking of the lovely things
In this wide world we see;
And, oh, if earth seems bright and fair
How lovely heaven must be.

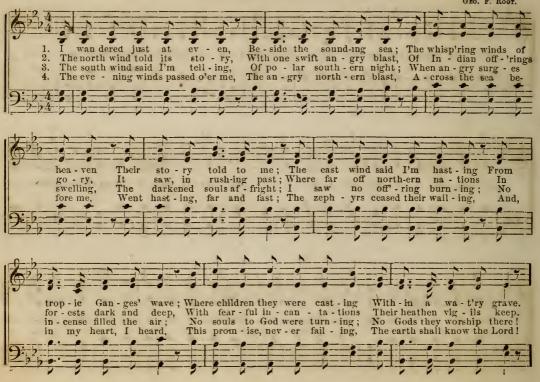

Girl. 6. Yes, true and honest, just and pure,
Present a lovely sight;
May only good report be heard
Of this our song to-night.

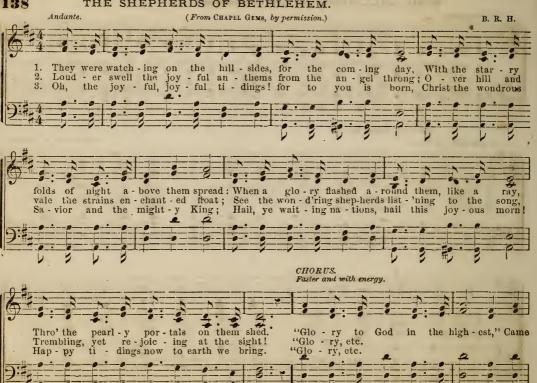

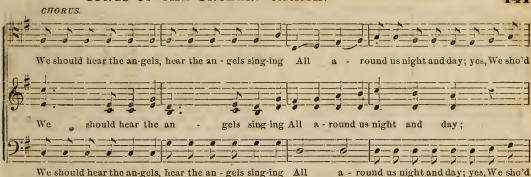

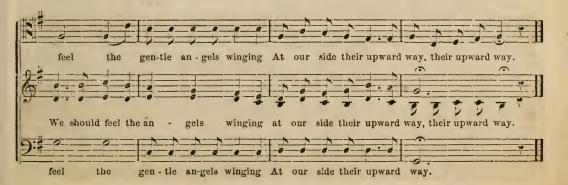

PART I.

The patriarch musing alone in Life's | even. Remembered the absent in whispers to | Heaven, As flitted the shadows, one after an | other, He | called the dear child of a | dearly loved mother.

And he said to him, "Go, I pray thee, see Whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks, and They rose up to comfort him, they who had I taken bring me word agaln."-GEN. 37: 14.

The land of Judea lay bright in the | morning, A smile ev'ry valley and hilltop a | dorning, When Joseph, (unconscious of evil en | deavor,) Passed on, and left Hebron, and | childhood forever.

When they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they conspired against him to slay him. GEN. 37: 18.

And dark as their deed was the pit where they | east him, And Jacob of those who regarded each | other And jeered at the dreamer and scornfully | passed him, But one with heart cast in a softer mould | rather Would | fain have delivered the | child to his father,

And Reuben said "Shed no blood but cast him into may live and not die."-GEN. 42: 2. this pit." that he might rid him out of their hands to deliver him unto his father. -GEN. 37: 22.

The merchants of Midian passed with their | spices, The brethren were ready with falsehood's de | vices; And trusting they never again might be | hold him, They | drew up their hated young | brother and sold him.

they brought Joseph into Egypt .- GEN. 37: 28. But what of the coat that was stripped from the | wearer? Remorseful their murmuring one to an | other, What hand to the father could dare to be | bearer?

Could hold the false dye to the searching of | Heaven, And | list to the heartbreak-the | one word "bereaven."

And they sent the coat of many colors, and they brought it to their father, and said, "This have we found, know now whether it be thy son's coat or no." GEN. 37: 32.

The light of his life and had left him for- saken. But sitting in sackcloth alone in his | sorrow, He | felt that the night of his | grief had no morrow.

And he said "For I will go down into the grave unto my son mourning? Thus his father wept for him.

PART II.

There's dearth in the land, and the olive tree | faileth, The vineyard is barren—the husbandman | paleth, Asked | "why look ye sadly thus | one to another?"

"Behold I have heard that there is corn in Egypt, get you down thither and buy for us from thence that we

The lord of the country spake roughly un | to them, They knew not the dreamer of old, but he | knew them; Said he, "Ye are spies, and some tidings would | gather? Said | they, "We are true men-the | sons of one father."

"If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison; go ye, carry corn for the Sold Joseph into Egypt for twenty pieces of silver, and famine of your houses, but bring your youngest brother, so shall your words be verified."-GEN. 42: 19, 20.

"We're verily guilty concerning our | brother;

We saw the soul anguish with which he be | sought us, |Then searchingly glancing from one to | another, And | heard not, and so the dis | tress hath been wrought He | faltered a blessing a | bove the young brother. us."

And Reuben answered them saying, "Spake I not unto you saying 'Do not sin against the child,' and ye would not hear? therefore behold also his blood is required.' GEN. 42: 22.

Ah! knew they the lord of the country was | weeping, That griefs of the past to the present were | leaping ? Then each to his father, with heavy heart | carried The | eorn and the money, for | Simeon tarried.

And Jacob said, "Me have ye bereaved of my children. Joseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye will take away Benjamin also. My son shall not go down with you. GEN. 42.

Yet sore was the famine. The valley of | Jordan No more at the vintage time glowed like a | garden, No grain for the reaper-no grapes for the | pressing, No seed for the spring time—no bread for the blessing.

And it came to pass when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, their father said unto them-(GEN. 43: 2.)

"Go again, buy us food." And the little ones | pleaded, "Go again, buy us food," but the cry was un | heeded, For sadly the answer passed one to | another, "We | cannot, except we take | with us our brother,"

And their father Israel said unto them, "If it must be so now, do this, take of the best truits of the land in your vessels and earry down the man a present. Take They cover the face, and in anguish im | plore him. also your brother.

And God give you merey and favor be | fore him, And shield your young brother, and safely re | store him, Yea, bring both again to make glad my life's | even-Be | reaved of my children, O : | I am bereaven.

And they took the present and Benjamin, and went | Some deeming that grief had of reason be | reft him. down to Egypt and stood before Joseph.

Strange mists in the eyes of the ruler would | gather, As softly he asked of the "old man," their | father,

And they sat before him the first born according to his birthright, and the youngest according to his youth, and the men marveled one to another. And they drank and were merry with him.

PART III.

A elatter of hoofs that the valley hath | shaken, A shout and a rush, and the men are o'er | taken, The dark-browed pursuers severe in dis | pleasure, The | Canaanites moved and sur | prised beyond measure.

And they said unto him "Wherefore saith my lord these words: God forbid that thy servants should do according to this thing.

We brought back the silver and gold as | we wot of-The treasure of which my lord's steward knew | not of: Then how should thy servants do this thing be I fore thee. How | take from my lord of his | riches or glory?

"With whomsoever it be found, both let him die, and we also will be my lord's bondmen."-GEN. 44: 9.

The sacks had been opened one after an | other, With glanees of triumph from brother to | brother. One only remaining; in haste they sur | round it And | ope and fall backward, O | God, have they found it?

Then they rent their clothes, and laded every man his ass and returned to the eity.

What thoughts are the ruler's as prostrate be | fore him As Judah all pleas of affection would | gather, In one grand appeal for the stricken old father.

Then Joseph could not refrain himself before all them that stood by him, and he eried,

"Cause ev'ry man here to go out." And they left | him. As swept the strong tide he no longer might | smother, They | heard as he eried "I am | Joseph, your brother. Doth my father yet live?"—GEN. 45:35.

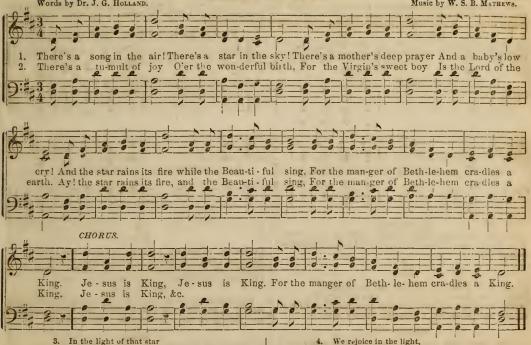

- 2. When a hasty word he'd utter, While dark thoughts his bosom fill, Soon you'll see the sunshine glowing On the face of darling Will: It will save from Sin's dark brink, Willie's motto, "Stop and think!"
- 3. When his hand is raised in anger
 And you'd think the blow must fall,
 Look! the shadows quickly vanish;
 Peace is brooding over all.
 It will save from Sin's dark brink.

Willie's motto, "stop and think!"

- When temptations hedge your pathway
 And you scarce can see the way,
 "Stop and think" before you venture,
 - Lest you blindly go astray. It will save from Sin's dark brink, Willie's motto, "Stop and think!"

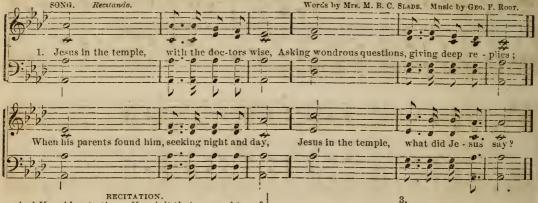

Music by W. S. B. MATHEWS.

Lie the ages impearled; And that song from afar Has swept over the world. Every hearth is a flame, and the Beautiful sing In the homes of the nations that Jesus is King.

And we echo the song That comes down through the night From the heavenly throng. Ay! we shout to the lovely evangel they bring, And we greet in His cradle our Savior and King! (From THE PRIZE, by permission.)

The Recitations may be read, or may be recited by scholars, either singly or in classes. It will be very useful to commit these portions of Scripture to memory, and the school might ask and answer these questions, in sections or classes, or individuals might be anpointed to do so. It is too long to be performed without some variety of this kind,

RECITATION.

And He said unto them, How isit that ye sought me? Wist ve not that I must be about my Father's business? Luke ii : 49.

SONG.

At the well of Jacob, | resting by its | brink, Bidding the Samaritan | give to Him to | drink. When she asked of Jesus | where men ought to | pray, At the well of Jacob, | what did Jesus | say?

RECITATION.

Jesus saith unto her, The hour cometh and now is. when the true worshipers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to wor-Ship him. John iv: 21, 23.

SONG.

On the sea of Galilee, | when the storm was | high, Save us, Lord! we perish! | his disciples | cry: While they marvel greatly, | as the winds o- | bey, On the sea of Galilee, | what did Jesus | say? RECITATION.

He saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose and rebuked the winds and the sea, and there was a great calm. Matt. viii : 26.

SONG.

Coming unto Bethany, | meeting, full of | gloom, Martha, mourning Lazarus, | lying in the | tomb, Of the Resurrection, | and the last Great | Day, Coming unto Bethany, | what did Jesus | say?

RECITATION.

Jesus saith unto Martha, thy brother shall rise again. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life. John xi: 23-25.

5. SONG.

Weeping o'er Jerusalem, | city of the | King, Whom he would have gathered | 'neath his loving | wing Mourning for her ehildren, | going all a* | stray, Weeping o'er Jerusalem, | what did Jesus | say?

RECITATION.

Oh! Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not! Matt. xxiii: 37.

SONG.

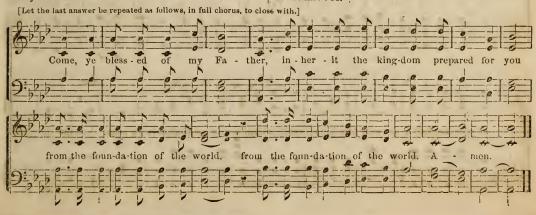

From that cross of sorrow, | ere his soul went | up, As he drank the fullness | of the bitter | eup, Looking on his enemies, | in their dark ar- | ray, From that cross of sorrow, | what did Jesus | say?

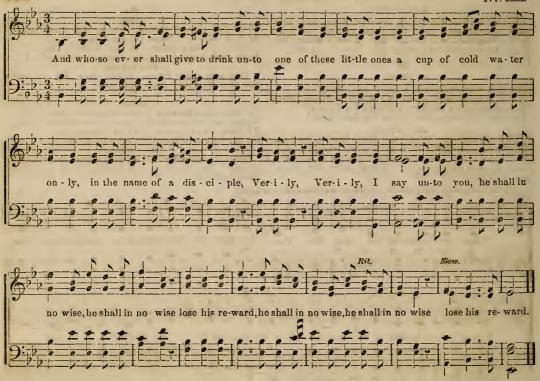

Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. Luke xxiii: 34.

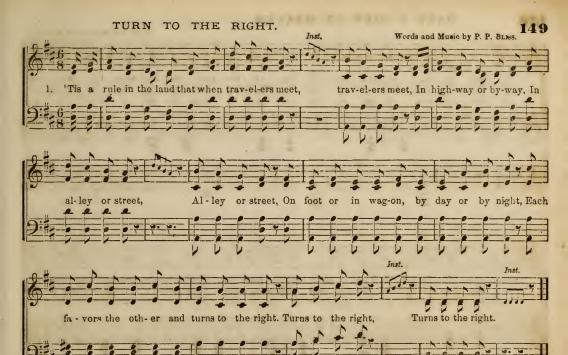

SONG.

On the hills of Heaven, | in the world a- | bove, Where the little children | learn His wondrons | love; All their sins forgiven, | in that blessed | day. On the hills of Heaven, | what will Jesus | say?

Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. Matt. xxv: 34.

2. What a wonderful measure of trouble we'd shun,
Trouble we'd shun.

If all the humanity under the sun,

Under the sun,
While passing each other were truly polite,
And wishing "Good morrow," would turn to the right.

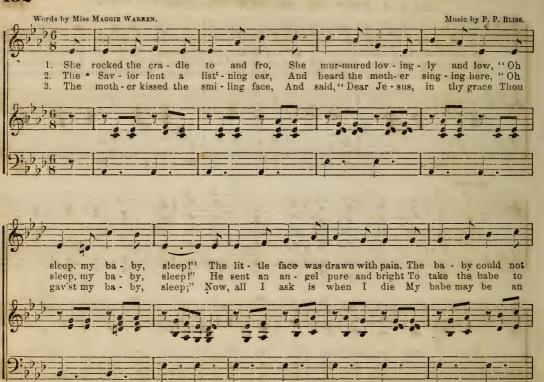

3. What a pity when selfishness stands in the way, Stands in the way,

And hinders one's hearing what Wisdom would say, Wisdom would say;

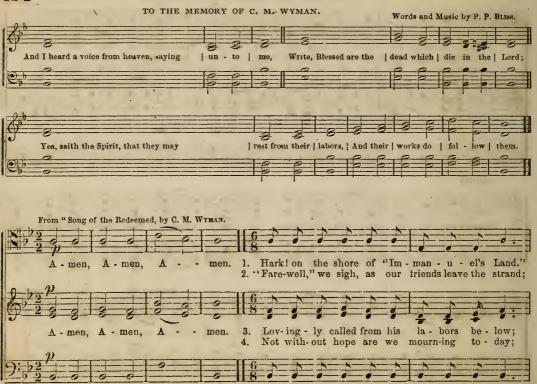

There's joy on the journey, the end is delight, To those in life's highway who turn to the right.

Only a few more wrongs,
Only a few more sighs;
Only a few more earthly songs,
Only a few good-byes:

3.
Then an eternal stay,
Then an eternal throng;
Then an eternal glorious day,
Then an eternal song.

GRADED SONGS. By O. Blackman.

These books by the principal of music in the Chicago Primary and High Schools, are prepared with special reference to the GRADED SYSTEM now so common in our Day Schools. Ever since their publication these books have been in use in the public schools of Chicago and other large cities and towns, and are working a complete revolution in the mode or system of teaching music. By their use the regular teachers are enabled to teach music more successfully than the special music teachers have hitherto been able to do
