PROTESTANT.

Why so? Do you know what the Word means? What is a Protestant? I suppose you mean, one that is not a Papist? But what is a Papist? If you don't know, say so. Acknowledge you cannot tell. Is not this the Case? You call yourself a Protestant: But you don't know what a Pretestant is. You talk against Papists: And yet neither do you know what a Papist is. Why do you pretend then to the Knowledge which you have not? Why do you use Words which you don't understand?

2. Are you desirous to know what these Words, Papist and Protestant mean? A Papist is one who holds the Pope, or Bishop of Rome (the Name Papa, that is Father, was formerly given to all Bishops) to be Head of the whole Christian Church: And the Church of Rome, or that which owns the Pope as their Head, to be the only Christian Church.

3. In a Course of Years, many Errors crept into this Church, of which good Men complain'd from Time to Time. At last, about two hundred Years ago, the Pope appointed many Bishops and others to meet at a Town in Germany, called Trent. But these, instead of amending those Frors, establish'd them all by a Law, and so delivered them down, to all succeeding Generations.

4. Among these Errors may be number'd, their Doctrine of Seven Sacraments; of Transubstantiation; of Communion in one Kind only; of Purgatory, and praying for the Dead therein; of Veneration of Relicks, and of Indulgences, or Pardons granted by the Pope, and to be bought for Money.

It

It is thought by some, that these Errors, great as they are, do only desile the Purity of Christianity: But it is sure, the following strike at its very Root, and tend to banish True Religion out of the World.

dation of Christianity is, that a Man can merit nothing of Goo: That we are justified freely by his Grace, through the Redemption that is in Jesus Christ: Not for any of our Works, or of our Deservings; but by Faith in the Blood of the Covenant.

But the Papists hold, That a Man may by his Works merit or deserve Eternal Life; and that we are justified, not by Faith in Christ alone, but by Faith and Works together.

This Doctrine strikes at the Root of Christian Faith,

the only Foundation of True Religion.

6. Secondly, The Doctrine of Praying to Saints and Worshipping of Images. To the Virgin Mary they pray in those Words; "O Mother of God, O Queen of Heaven, command thy Son to have Mercy upon us." And, "The Right Use of Images, says the Council of Trent, "is to honour them, by bowing down before them." Sest. 25. Par. 2.

This Doctrine strikes at the Root of that great Commandment, (which the Papists call the First) Thou shall not bown down to them, nor worship them, i. e. not any Image whatsoever. It is gross, open, palpable Idolatry, such as can neither he denied, nor excused; and tends directly to destroy the Love of God, which is indeed the First and Great Commandment.

been for many Ages a favourite Doctrine of the Church of Rome. And the Papiks in general still maintain, That "all Hereticks (that is, all who differ from them) "ought to be competed to receive what they call the "True Frith; to be forced into the Church, or out of the World."

Now this strikes at the Root of, and utterly tears up, the Second Great Commandment. It directly tends to bring in blind, bitter Zeal; Anger, Hatred, Malice, Variance; every Temper, Word and Work that is just contrary to the loving our Neighbour as our selves.

A 2

So plain it is, that these Grand Popish Doctrines of Merit, sciolatry and Persecution, by destroying both Faith and the Love of God and of our Neighbour, tend to bandh True Christianity out of the World.

8. Well might our Forefathers protest against these: And hence it was that they were called Protestants: Even because they publickly protested, as against all the Errors of the Pupists, so against these Three in particular: The making void Christian Faith, by holding that Man may merit Heaven by his own Works; the overtheowing the Love of Gop by Idolatry, and the Love of Our Neighbour by Persecution.

Are you then a Protestant, truly so called? Do you protest, as against all the rest, so in particular, against these three grand, sundamental Errors of Popery? Do you publickly protest against all Merit in Man? All Salwation by our own Works? Against all Idolatry of every Sort? And against every Kind and Degree of Perse.

I question not but you do. You publickly protest against all these horrible Errors of Popery. But does your Heart agree with your Lips? Do you not inward-ly cherish what you outwardly renounce? 'Tis well, if you, who cry out so much against Papists, are not one yourself. 'Tis well if you are not yourself (as little as you may think it) a rank Papist at the Heart.

"doing thus and thus? By doing no Harm, and pay"ing every Man his own, and faying your Prayers,
"and going to Church and Sacrament?" Alas! alas!
Now you have thrown off the Mask. This is Popery barefaced. You may just as well speak plain, and say,
"I trust to be saved by the Merit of my own Works."
But where is CHRIST all this time? Why, he is not to come in, till you get to the End of your Prayers,
And then you will say, for JESUS CHRIST's Sake,— because so it slands in your Book. O my Friend, your very Foundation is Popish. You feek Salvation by your own Works. You trample upon the Blood of the Covement. And what can a poor Pepist do more?

any more than the Papists are? It may be indeed yours is in a different Way. But how little does that fignify? They set up their Idols in their Churches: You set up yours in your Heart. Their Idols are only cover'd with Gold or Silver: But yours is folid Gold. They worship the Picture of the Queen of Heaven; you, the Picture of the Queen or King of England. In another Way, they idolize a dead Man or Woman; whereas your Idol is yet alive. O how little is the Difference before GOD? How small Preheminence has the Money-Worshipper at London, over the Image-Worshipper at Rome? Or the Idolizer of a living Sinner over him that prays to a dead Saint?

persecute? Does he force another Man's Conscience? So does the Projet at home, as far as he can; for all he calls himself a Protestant? Will the Man in Italy tolerate no Opinion but his own? No more, if he could help it, would the Man in England. Would yoù? Don't you think the Government much overseen, in bearing any but those of the Church? Don's you wish, they would put dozon such and such People? You know what you would do, if you was in their Place.—And by the very same Spirit, you would continue the Inquisition at Rome, and rekindle the Fires in Smithsfield.

Protestants, who are full of their own Good Deservings; as well as of abominable Idelatry, and of blind, fiery Zeal, of the whole Spirit of Persecution; that the Sword of GOD, the great, the just, the jealous GOD is even now drawn in our Land: That the Armies of the Aliens are hovering over it, as a Vulture over his Prey; and that the open Papists are on the very Point of swallowing up the pretended Protestants.

Then I intreat you, first, Be a Real Protestant. By the Spirit of GOD assisting you (for without him you know you can do nothing) cast away all that Trust in your own Righteousness, all Hope of being saved by your own Works. Own, your Merit is everlasting Damnation;

tion; that you deserve the Damnation of Hell. Humble yourself under the mighty Hand of GOD. Lie in the Dust. Let your Mouth be stopt. And let all your Considence be in the Blood of Sprinkling; all your Hope in JESUS CHRIST the Righteous; all your Faith in him that justifieth the Ungodly, through the Redemption that is in JESUS.

O put away your Idols out of your Heart. Love not the World, neither the Things of the World. Having Food to eat and Raiment to put on, be content: Defire nothing more but GOD. To-day, hear his Voice, who continually crics, My Son, give me thy Heart. Give yourself to him, who gave himself for you. Mayyou love GOD, as he has loved us! Let him be your Desire, your Delight, your Joy, your Portion, in Time and in Eternity.

And if you love GOD, you will love your Brother also: You will be ready to lay down your Life for his Sake: So far from any Desire to take away his Life, or to hurt a Hair of his Head. You will then leave his Conscience uncontroused; you will no more think of fircing him into your own Opinions, as neither can he force you, to judge by his Conscience. But each shall give an Account of himself to GOD.

fhould endeavour to inform him better. But whatever you do, let it be done in Charity, in Love and Meekness of Wisdom. Be zealous for GOD: But remember, that the Wrath of Man avorketh not the Righteoustes of GOD: That angry Zeal, the opposing Sin, is the Servant of Sin; that true Zeal is only the Flame of Love. Let this be your truly Protestant Zeal: While you abhor every Kind and Degree of Persecution, let your Heart burn with Love to all Mankind, to Friends and Enemies, Neighbours and Strangers; to Christians, Heathens, Jews, Turks, Papists, Heretics; to every Soul which GOD hath made. Let this your Light shine before Men, that they may glorify your Father which is in Heaven.

HYMNI.

T.

HERE have I been so long
Fast bound in Sin and Night?
Mix'd with the blind self-righteous Throng,
Who hate the Sons of Light?

II.

O how shall I presume,
Jesus, to call on thee,
Sunk in the lowest Dregs of Rome,
The worst Idolatry.

III.

A Stranger to thy Grace
Long have I labour'd, Lord.
To stablish my own Righteousness,
And been what I abhor'd.

IV.

Foe to the Popish Boast, No Merit was in me, Yet in my Works I put my Trust, And not alone in Thee.

V

For Works that I had wrought I look'd to be forgiven, And by my virtuous Tempers thought At last to purchase Heaven.

Or if I needed still
The Help of Grace divine,
Thy Merit: should come in to fill
The small Defects of mine.

VII.

Alas! I knew not then
Thou only didit atone
For all the finful Sons of Men,
And purge our Guilt alone;

VIII.

Didst shed thy Blood to pay
The all-sufficient Price,
And bear the World's Offence away
By thy great Sacrifice.

IX.

But, O! my dying Goo,
By Thee convinc'd at last,
My Soul on that atoning Blood,
On that alone I cast.

X.

I dare no longer trust In ought I do or feel, But own, while humbled in the Dust, My whole Desert is Hell.

XI.

My Works and Righteousies,

I cast them all away;

Me, Lord, Thou frankly must release,

For I have nought to pay.

Not one good Word or Thought

I to thy Merits join,
But humbly take the Gift unbought,
The Righteousness Divine.

My Faith is all in Thee, My only Hope thou art,

The Pardon thou haft bought for me,

Engrave it on my Heart.

The Blood by Faith apply'd, O let it now take place, And speak me freely justify'd, And fully sav'd thro' Grace.

HYMN II.

Orgive me, O thou jealous Gon, A Wretch who on thy Laws have trod, And robb'd Thee of thy Right,

A Sinner to myself unknown,

'Gainst Thee I have transgress'd and done

This Evil in thy Sight.

My Body I disdain'd t'incline, Or worship at an Idol's Shrine

With gross Idolatry:

But O! my Soul hath baser prov'd,

Honour'd, and fear'd, ard serv'd, and lov'd,

The Creature more than Thee.

Let the blind Sons of Rome bow down

To Images of Wood and Stone;

But I with subtler Art,

Safe from the Letter of thy Word,

My Idols secretly ador'd, Set up within my Heart.

But O! suffice the Season pas.

My Idols now away I cast.

Pleasure, and Wealth, and Fanie,

To Thee alone resolv'd to give

Whate'er I have, or am.

V.

Lo! in a thankful loving Heart
I render Thee whate'er Thou art,
I give Thyself to Thee;
And Thee my whole Delight I own,
My Joy, my Glory, and my Crown,
To all Eternity.

HYMN III.

I

Thou who seest what is in Man, And shew'st myself to me, Suffer a Sinner to complain, And groan his Griefs to Thee.

II.

A Sinner that has cloak'd his Shame With felf-deceiving Art,
Thy Worshipper reform'd in Name,
But unrenew'd in Heart.

III.

The Servants most unlike their Lord How oft did I condemn,
The Persecuting Church abhorr'd,
Nor saw myself in them?

The Spirit of my Foes I caught,
The angry bitter Zeal,
And fierce for my own Farty fought,
And breath'd the Fire of Hell.

V.

Threatnings I did and Slaughter breathe, (The Flail of Heresy)
And doom the Sects to Bonds or Death Who did not think with me.

To propagate the Truth I fought With Fury and Despite, And in my Zeal for Israel sought, To slay the Gibconite.

VII.

"The Temple of the Lord are we," And all that dar'd deny,

I would not leave their Conscience free, But force them to comply.

VIII.

With wholesome Discipline severe To conquer them I strove,

And drive into the Pale thro' Fear Who would not come thro' Love.

IX

How vainly then the Zealots blind Of Rome I did disclaim,

Still to the Church of Satan join'd, And diff'ring but in Name!

Χ.

How could I, Lord, myself deceive, While unreform'd within, Protest against their Creed, and cleave

Ine closer to their Sin?

XI.

Their foulest Sin my own I made, (And humbly now confess)

While by my Anger I essay'd To work thy Righteousness.

XII

A Murderer convict I come, My Vileness to bewail,

By Nature born a Son of Rome, A Child of Wrath and Hell.

XIII.

Lord, I at last recant, reject, (Thro' Jesus Strength alone)
The Madness of the Romiss Sect, The Madness of my own.

XIV.

Lord, I abhor, renounce, abjure The fiery Sp'rit unclean, The persecuting Zeal impure, [I2] XV.

Let others draw with sierce Despite
The persecuting Sword,
And with the Devil's Weapons sight,
The Battles of the Lord;

But O! my gracious God, to me A better Mind impart, The gentle Mind that was in Thee, The meekly loving Heart.

The Heart whose Charity o'erslows
To all far off and near,
True Charity to Friends and Foes,
Impartially sincere.

XVIII.

Heathens, and Jews, and Turks, may I And Hereticks embrace;
Nor ev'n to Rome the Love deny
I owe to all the Race.
